Collector of Customs Robb's commission is expected to reach Astoria from Washington some time during the coming week, and he will then assume the duties of his office. The appointment of John C. McCue as second deputy seems to have been definitely determined upon, and Mr. McCue will take office unless something unexpected happens.

Yesterday's run of salmon was not quite so good as that of Wednesday, although most of the gillnetters made fair catches. Some of the men who fished along the north shore brought in between 1000 and 1500 pounds, but of course these were exceptional hauls. It is believed the run will fall off between now and Monday, on which latter day a new run is expected.

According to Portlanders who were in the city yesterday, the report has been current in the metropolis for some days that the Astoria regatta would not be held this year, and universal regret was expressed that it was to be allowed to go by. Failure to take up the matter at an earlier date will necessitate some advertising to correct the erroneous impression.

Another new car has been almost completed at the Astoria Electric Company's car barn, and as soon as the painter finishes his work will be placed in commission. Three cars will then have been turned out here this year, and a fourth will be built before the end of the summer. The cars turned out here are of handsome design and compare favorably with those built at the car factories in the East. When the company installs its new machinery it will have a well-equipped plant, and the service here will be about the best furnished any of the smaller cities of the West.

Two drunks were up before Police Judge Nelson yesterday afternoon, and both fared extremely well. One, O. Hanson, is a sailor on a ship lying at Knappton. He had fought the floating bowl so persistently that he was marked down by the police judge for a ten-spot. As all his effects were aboard the vessel, Judge Nelson suspended sentence on condition that Hanson join his ship which he promised to do. Frank Waldo was the other offender. He was fined $5. Waldo follows fishing for a vocation, and rather than deprive him of the opportunity to better his financial condition, Judge Nelson turned him loose, first having secured from his promise that he would be good.

Manager Offer, of the Eagle baseball team, has extended to the Cathlamet team a challenge to play a game in this city for $100 a side. It seems the Cathlamets recently met defeat at the hands of the Clatskanie nine and lost $50 on the game. When the Cathlamets played here there was some talk on the part of their enthusiastic friends of wagering $100 on the result of another game, and the challenge followed. The local team desires to play the game Sunday, July 27. It is probable that the Astoria baseball team, another aggregation of ball tossers, will play at Warrenton on Sunday. On the following Sunday, if plans carry, the team will meet the South Bend nine in a return match at Ilwaco.

HAS COMMENCED WORK

REGATTA COMMITTEE GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS.

Dates for Carnival Fixed at August 19, 20 and 21—Dr. Henderson is Chairman.

Permanent organization of the regatta committee was effected yesterday afternoon at the Commercial Club, and the necessary sub-committees were named for the purpose of commencing work on the ninth annual carnival. The officers chosen yesterday afternoon are as follows:

Chairman—Dr. H. L. Henderson.
Vice-chairman—C. R. Morse.
Secretary—Otto Mikkleson.
Treasurer—C. R. Higgins.

The most important business transacted by the committee yesterday was the selection of the dates for the regatta. After much discussion, it was decided that the regatta should be held on August 19, 20 and 21. The tides on those dates are high shortly after noon, and prognosticators have it that the weather will then be fine. The opinion was general that the regatta on those dates are high shortly after the close of the fishing season as possible.

Edward Mann, who had been named by the Push Club as a member of the regatta committee, was unable to serve in that capacity, and Robert A. McLean was named yesterday in his stead. Chairman Henderson named the following sub-committees:

Soliciting committee—C. R. Morse, H. W. Dean and P. B. Sovey.
Committee on headquarters—W. A. Stine.

Committee on press and advertising—J. L. Kline and P. B. Sovey.
Committee on sports—Dr. R. J. Pilkington, Otto Mikkleson and J. H. O'Connell.

Committee to arrange for the queen contest—P. B. Sovey, W. A. Stine and R. A. McLean.

It was the understanding that sub-committees should call on the citizens generally for assistance wherever it is needed.

The soliciting committee will begin its work before the end of the present week. Some time ago a canvass was made by a committee, and at that time many subscriptions were secured. The field was pretty thoroughly gone over, and the present finance committee will doubtless find the work much easier than have committees of former years.

The committee named to arrange for the queen contest is already in receipt of a suggestion. The gentleman who advances the idea believes two queens should be selected, one for the events on land and the other for the water sports. It is suggested that one queen be chosen from Seattle and the other from Portland, and that maid of honor be selected from the different cities throughout Oregon and Washington. The idea was regarded as an excellent one by the committee, but it was the opinion that, with only a month in which to arrange for the carnival, it would be impossible to successfully carry out the plan this year.

The regatta committee will hold a meeting at the Commercial Club at 7.30 this evening, when the reports of the several sub-committees will be heard. No time will be lost in arranging details, and the people of the city are urged to lend what assistance they can to the various committees.

LOCATING SMOKELESS GUNS.

The English war office has many schemes for training their soldiers, and which are generally followed up by practical demonstration. The latest is a device for locating guns firing smokeless powder, and its success will make a new era in military progress. It is also interesting to consider the wonderful advancement in medicine during the past 50 years. It was about that time that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters was first introduced and during those years has made such a wonderful record of cures of such ailments as indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia, belching, constipation and liver and kidney troubles, that today it occupies the foremost position as a family medicine. Don't fail to try it. Our private stamp is on the neck of the bottle.
